CITY NOTES.

There will be an anniversary service at the Rescue mission this evening. The Ladies' Aid society of Elm Park church will serve supper tonight from 5.30

The Delaware and Hudson company paid its employes on the Honesdale branch of the Gravity and the shops. The Ladies' Aid society of Grace Lu-theran church, Madison avenue and Mul-berry street, invite: everybody to supper evening between 5 and 8 o'clock.

Joseph Popotatsky was landed in the police station last night by the proprie-tor of a store on Penn avenue. Popotatwas intoxicated and smashed a pane Frank Godwin, of Dunmore, fell eighfeen feet through an area way into the basement of the Traders' National bank building yesterday and sustained a pain-ful scalp wound. He was taken to the Lackawanna hospital. A. Weil, doing a transient business on Adams avenue, was arrested yesterday for scattering circulars on the streets. Alderman Howe fined him $2 and imposed the costs of the case. Special Officer

Hall made the arrest. For attempting to steal a ride on the "Comet" William Cunningham was ar-rested yesterday by Special Officer Durkin, of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western company, Cunningham was committed to jail for sixty days.

A. J. Sardell, editor of Prziglag, a weekly Polish paper, entered bail before Al-derman Millar vesterday on a charge of criminal libet, preferred by Mr. Lopalegner. It is alleged that the editor said libelous things about Lopaleyner.

A fall of roof at the Central mine esterday will probably result fatally to John McKearney, a miner. He was re-ceived at the Moses Taylor hospital suffering from a broken back. McKearney lives on Luzerne street. He is a married man, and has a large family.

Marriage licenses were yesterday granted to William Simpkins, of Bloomfield, N. ed to William Simplins, of Bloomleld, N. J., and Esther Matilda Watkins, of Scranton; Gomer E. Davis and Muria Thomas, of Taylor; Edwin Vall, of Carbondale, and Mame Cooliean, of Archbali; Vana Price and Alice Park, of Richmondale. John Matuska, one of the men accused of assaulting William Couch, of Blakely, with a sledge hammer, was arrested yesterday and lodged in the county jail to await the result of Couch's injuries. The other assailant, Mike Shilaski, has not, as yet, been captured. Couch continues in a critical condition. Deputy Sheriff T. J. Price, accompan led by Joseph Speicher, will leave this morning for the Huntington Reformatory with 14-year-old Harry Uram, who was committed to that institution at the last term of criminal court for stealing $79 from the store of his father, Ignatz Uram, of Hickory street.

To lock up a store at night and in the morning discover that such a cumber-some thing as a blcycle had disappeared while nothing about the place indicated forcible entrance is what is puzzling the managers of a bicycle repository at 122 Washington avenue. The police yester-day were asked to look out for the wheel, a Lackawanna. No. 609.

A MORNING WEDDING.

Miss Louise F. Brainard Married to Harry C. Lucas.

At 11 o'clock the bridal party entered the church to the strains of the bridal chorus from Lohengrin, rendered by Bauer's orchestra. First came the ishers, Frank J. Leonard, P. O'Malley, Geo. O. Sharps and F. L. Barnes, the last named of Syracuse, N. Y. The maid of honor, Miss Emily Brainard, sister of the bride, followed. Then came the bride, accompanied by her brother-in-law, Hon, John P. Kelly. They were met at the altar rail by the groom and his best man, Charles McDougall, of Fort Wayne, Ind., who came from the sacristy on the left. The bridal party arranged itself in pretty grouping within the flowerembowered sanctuary and then the nuptial words were pronounced, the orchestra in the meantime playing as refrain, Eilenberg's bridal song. At the conclusion of the ceremony the bridal party proceeded down the aisle, the orchestra playing as a recessional

A reception was held at the Brain-ard home, 802 Marion street, where the relatives and immediate friends gathered to offer their congratulations and well wishes before the newly-married couple started on an extended wedding tour at 3.30 o'clock. The wedding breakfast was served by Hanley, N. Y.; Samuel Hoey and Martin Malone, of Philadelphia,

Mrs. Lucas is the daughter of Mrs. Daniel B. Brainard and was formerly a teacher in public school No. 27. She is a handsome and highly cultured young lady and very popular among all her acquaintances. The groom is one of Scranton's foremost young business men and prominent in the city's social life. Mr. and Mrs. Lucas on their return will live in a handsomely furnished home on Monsey avenue,

Dunmore Conclave Celebrated Its Fourth Anniversary.

EXERCISES HELD IN MANLEY'S HALL

Was An Attendance That Taxed the Hall to Its Capacity and All Were Delighted with the Excellence of the Entertainment .- J. S. Quick Was the Presiding Officer. Address by District Deputy W. V. Hendricks.

Dunmore conclave, No. 235, Improved Order of Heptasophs, celebrated its fourth anniversary last night in Man-ley's hall on Chestnut street. There was an unexcelled programme of entertainment, and the hall was crowded. First there was an entertainment, followed by a banquet, and lastly a dance During the progress of the entertainment Walter V. Hendricks was introduced to give an address, and he gave a brief outline of Dunmore conclave Nincteen years ago, he said, in Balti-more, the Improved Order of Heptasophs was organized on August 25 with twelve charter members. The present nembership of the order throughout the United States is 38,000. Four years ago Among the guests from out of town last night Dunmore conclave was orwere Mrs. Emma Barnes, of Syracuse, ganized with twenty-eight charter members. For a year or so the conclave encountered many difficulties, so that a year from the time it was organized the membership had decreased to nineteen, and of that number some > ping out, also. But, this condition did not last very long. Three or four of the members got together and croused enthusiasm. Then new members began coming in. and now the membership is 132. Mr. Hendricks is district deputy of District 28, to which Dunmore conclave belongs, and he veuched that the present standing and progress made entitles it to e called the banner conclave not only of the district, but also of northeastern

LOW RATE OF INSURANCE. He spoke of the low rate of insurance offered by the Heptasophs, and com-paring it with the rates of other organizations and insurance companies he made the statement that it is the cheapest and best insurance that can be get. Referring to the fraternal side of the order, he said, the members meet together as brothers, not caring what one another's religion and politics are. They acknowledge the fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man. The celebration began at 8.30. On the east side of the hall two rows of tables were arranged, laden with gastronomical delicacies. The remainder of the floor space was taken up with cats. The stage was decorated with a row of bleoming chrysanthemums and ferns. Miss Nellie Curran opened the exercises with a piano solo, and J. S. Quick, archon of the conclave, followed with an address of welcome. were, from Dunmore, Hyde Park,Green Ridge, Providence and South Scranton, upwards of 600 people present, members and friends and their wives, sisters and sweethearts. The Columbia quartette, of Hyde Fark, rendered a plantation chorus in fine style. Miss Grace Winchell gave a recitation with musical accompaniment, entitled "There'll Be a Hot Time late yesterday afternoon at the loading | in the Old Town Tonight." Miss Winchutes of the Cayuga breaker by which | chell was very effective and charming an elderly woman, whose home is near in her rendition of the piece and she a little girl, sang "Kiss and Let Make Up," very beautifully. Al Austin, of the Austin and Rankin quartette, appeared in a grotesque costume and burnt cork visage, and for a space of ten minutes created much amusement in telling funny stories.

OTHER FEATURES.

Misses Sadie Dougherty and Mary McHale received great applause for the very fine manner they rendered vocal olos. Lida Golden, a little tot, was quite capable at the piano in Sousa's "King Cotton," and Miss Mame Finnan displayed elocutionary talent of rare quality in her declamation of "How Salvator Won the Race." Robert Atkinson, of South Scranton, played a piano medley with artistic skill, and the Morgan sisters, both very young, sang "You Can't Play in My Backyard" delightfully.

Special mention needs to be made of the recitation of "Beneath the Beam' by Charles Bennett, of Hyde Park. Mr. Bennett has a clear, resonant voice finely modulated, and well adapted to the expression of dramatic force. He has an easy and graceful presence and, being yet a young man, he has a promising future in this line, M. J. Hallinan was another entertainer who is entitled to more than passing notice. He is a dancer of better skill than many who perform professionally on the stage. The applause following his appearance was so vigorous that he had to come out again.

The programme concluded at 19.39 and another hour was spent around the festal board. Then the dancing be gan. Miss Nellie Curran was pianist and John Golden was prompter. The members of the conclave who
